Moncton mourns

It is indeed a sad day for all of Moncton when we must honour the loss of a great man. Ian Fowler was a hard working visionary who is responsible for making Moncton's wildest dreams come true. Best known for putting Moncton in the spotlight with big names such as U2, AC/DC and the Rolling Stones he was also a key figure in rocketing our city to an international status with the IAAF

World track and field Championships. Ian Fowler has opened our eyes to what is possible when hard work and determination come together. He has dared us to think and dream bigger and for this we thank him. Our condolences go out to the fowler family and to his many friends.

Artisan Village!

The artisan village located at 465 Main St. will now be open on Saturdays from 10 am to 5 pm. Come and see first hand how local artists and craftsmen create their beautiful one of a kind creations.
