SLAM WRITING WORKSHOP

February 1st from 6—9 pm at the Moncton Public Library

The "Centre d'accueil et d'accompagnement francophone des immigrants du Sud-Est du Nouveau-Brunswick" (CAFI, formerly CAIMM) invites everyone to attend a free writing workshop.

Falling somewhere between verbal jousting, poetry and a one-man-show, slam is an oratory art where anyone wishing to express themselves can take the stage, without the constraints of poetic literature, themes, memorization or formatted text.

This workshop offers you the opportunity to become familiar with this art form by creating your own text around the general theme: the strength of bark in relation to February Black History Month.
